A LAKE DISASTER.

Twenty-One Lives Lost in a Storm at Milwaukee.

WATERWORKS CRIB WRECKED

The Complete Structure Carried Away by the Winds—But One Man Escapes Alive and He Is Badly Injured and Will Probably Die—Names of the Victims of the Disaster.

MILWAUKEE, April 21.—The crib at the new intake of the waterworks tunnel, 5,000 feet out into the lake, was carried away by the storm and 21 men who had spent the night there lost their lives. Twenty-two men went out to the crib during a lull in the storm that seemed to presage better weather, but the gale increased with almost unexampled fury and early in the morning it was discovered that the house on the crib and the upper portion of the superstructure were gone.

No life could be seen on the remains of the crib for some hours, but with strong glasses it was possible during occasional spells, when the wreck of the crib was not entirely submerged, to see six of the unfortunate workmen clinging to the pumping machinery, which projects above the wrecked woodwork. It was thought the remainder of the men were suffocated in the air chamber under the crib. At 11 o'clock the tug Starkey steamed out of the harbor in the teeth of the gale with a lifeboat fully manned in tow. The sea was swamping somewhat, but the run of the tug was a perilous one. At times she was completely buried by the breakers. The crew in the lifeboat astern were frequently buried from sight.

The tug got as near to the wrecked crib as was deemed safe and then the lifesaving crew dropped down beside the structure. Only one man was found. He was unconscious and was brought off as quickly as possible. He is completely exhausted and it is believed he will not recover. After being brought to the city he recovered long enough to say that all of his companions are in the air chamber beneath the water. The member of the life crew who went to the crib to take the rescued man off, saw two bodies floating around in the tunnel well. Captain Peterson of the lifesaving crew was badly injured at the crib and a doctor was sent to the station to dress his injuries.

The following are known to have been in the wrecked crib:

George Gregg, lockman.
Michael Dwyer, engineer.
John McBride, engineer.
Eben Allen, cook.
James Miller, miner.
William Priestly, miner.
Joseph M. Carthy, miner.
George W. Holly, miner.
William Presner, miner.
Joseph Prengold, miner.
Gust Lacomitz, miner.
Fred Spanner, miner.
James N. Miller is the man who was rescued.

The doctors say he will recover.

STORM AT CHICAGO.

Several Vessels Wrecked and Other Damage Done.

CHICAGO, April 21.—Driven before the wild winds that lashed the lake and helpless in the high sea the 2-masted schooner F. L. Danforth broke the cable which held her in tow of the steamer A. P. Wright, and after a long battle with the elements was dashed upon a sandbar off Lake View. Utterly unable to control their craft the crew of seven men and the captain narrowly escaped death and were only rescued from their perilous position by the timely arrival of the lifesaving crew from the city.

The cargo of 48,000 bushels of corn carried by the Danforth was consigned to parties in Sarnia, Canada. It will be a total loss. The Danforth was valued at $40,000 and was insured. The captain was John Isbister, who, with Captain J. L. Higgle of Higgle & Walsh, owned the wrecked boat.

During the fury of the storm the City of Naples, one of the largest freight boats on the lake, broke loose from the dock and crashed into the City of Sheboygan. The latter went to the bottom and her cargo is a total loss. She carried 17,000 bushels. She was owned by John Hark of this city and was valued at $6,000 without insurance. The cargo is fully insured.

Other craft received less damage.

STORM IN PENNSYLVANIA.

Considerable Damage Done at Uniontown and Scottsdale.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 21.—One of the worst windstorms ever known in this section is raging here. Chimneys have been blown down, and in several places trees blown across telegraph lines and all the wires broken.

At Scottsdale the windows on one side of the public school building were blown in and many children hurt. A little son of A. I. Ellis of this place was blown against the building and badly hurt. The Scottsdale foundry was unroofed, and John Darling, an employee, badly hurt.

Cyclones in the East.

NEW YORK, April 21.—Cyclones are reported in different parts of the east. There was a small one in New York and the wind has blown all night everywhere in the eastern states at almost cyclone speed. Communications are cut off in every direction and grave fears exist of disasters along the Atlantic coast.

Big Bank Failure.

LONDON, April 21.—The failure is announced of the Australian Joint Stock bank, with liabilities amounting to £12,000,000.

RIOTOUS STRIKERS.

Nonunion Men Assaulted and Several Badly Injured.

CINCINNATI, April 21.—There is general unrest in labor circles in Cincinnati. Following directly upon the heels of the strike at the Edison Electric company's plant comes a strike of cabinet makers at the Huss Brothers company, among whom trouble has been brewing for some time. Recently the men demanded an increase of pay. The firm desired time to consider and finally granted the demand. Then the union demanded the discharge of all nonunion men. The firm refused.

Yesterday the union men refused to go to work and stood about jeering the scabs as they entered the building. There was considerable drinking among them during the day and yesterday evening when the nonunion men left their work they were assaulted in the street and sticks and stones were used as weapons. About 25 men were engaged in the melee. Several on both sides were injured, but none fatally. A squad of police bore down upon them in the midst of the fight and 25 of them were carted to the station. There is fear of further trouble.

No Settlement at Toledo.

TOLEDO, April 21.—The brotherhood men were in session all day. They say that nothing developed. They will not talk on the situation. The Ann Arbor officials say they will take the strikers back as they need them, but that is all. They will not discharge any nonunion. The advisory board say they will be here for several days to come.

HERR KRUPP'S KINGLY GIFT.

His Monster Cannon Presented to the City of Chicago.

CHICAGO, April 21.—At the conclusion of the world's fair the monster Krupp gun, the biggest piece of ordnance in the world, will be presented to Chicago by Herr Krupp, and mounted in a fort off Hyde park, permission to build which has been given to Colonel Robert Rae of Chicago by the secretary of war.

The fort will be located on five acres of made ground and according to the very latest plans of fortification. The works will be of earth, as stone is no longer of value to resist the terrible assaults of modern implements of war. Work will begin very soon and be pushed with the greatest possible rapidity. It will be finished in a comparatively short time and from then until the end of the fair it will be used for a practice ground for an artillery company, the practice being carried on with the most improved artillery in the government's possession.

When the fair is over the fort will be occupied by the government artillery and the monster Krupp gun will be mounted there ready either for inspection or for active service. With its immense power it can protect Chicago from its northern coastline to its southern, for by its perfected sights expert gunners can obtain an accuracy of marksmanship that will enable them to throw a shot weighing pretty nearly a ton clean through a man-of-war. One shot is guaranteed to send the largest craft afloat to the bottom.

The gift, Colonel Rae says, was both a surprise and a delight.

NEW BROTHERHOOD.

All Classes of Railway Workmen to Organize One.

NEW YORK, April 21.—A special to The Press from Toledo, says:

It is probable that the Ann Arbor strike, aided by Judge Ricks' decision, has proved a death blow to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. A new association is now being formed in this city. The new organization will include, aside from engineers and firemen, such superintendents of motive power as are desirous of joining, and may also be open to all employees of railroads, from the highest officials down to the trackmen. The object of the new organization will be practically the same as those of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. The management of the new organization will be placed in the hands of the older and more experienced railroad men, and will provide for general arbitration, when it may become necessary.

NEW POSTMASTERS.

Several More Changes Take Place in the Fourth Class.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Fourth class postmasters were appointed as follows: Ohio—Beallsville, Monroe county, J. H. Arnold vice M. N. James, resigned; Limestone, Ottawa county, James Duncan vice B. F. Helrick, resigned; West Cairo, Allen county, Thomas Harpster vice A. J. McFarland, resigned. Indiana—Barnard, Putnam county, N. H. Bartlett; Cleona, Brown county, G. H. Barnhill; Coal City, Owen county, W. M. Free; Oxford, Benton county, B. J. Parker; Unionville, Monroe county, Elizabeth M. Kerr. Kentucky—Beard, Oldham county, Warren Dennis; Claxton, Caldwell county, Sidney Lester; Eagle station, Carroll county, J. T. Roselle; Fairy Farm, Graves county, W. T. Bright; Ford's Ferry, Crittenden county, J. L. Rankin.

Burglars Raid.

WINAMAC, Ind., April 21.—Burglars made a raid on the stores in Franceville, Ind., this county, and carried off about $300 worth of jewelry and cutlery. The sheriff and a posse of citizens scoured the country around, but no clew could be found.

Jail Burned.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 21.—News has just reached here that the courthouse, jail and jailer's residence at Fayetteville were destroyed by fire about 6 o'clock last evening. The county records were saved.

GROWING IN EXTENT.

One Cyclone Follows in the Path of Another.

MORE DEADLY THAN THE FIRST.

Over Forty People Killed and Nearly Two Hundred Injured in Clark and Jasper Counties in Mississippi—The Destruction of Property Will Amount to Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars.

MERIDIAN, Miss., April 21.—Clarke and Jasper counties of this state have suffered from a cyclone, more deadly to human life and destruction of property than the one of three weeks ago. It followed almost in the tracks of its predecessor. Over 40 people were killed and nearly 200 more or less injured. These figures may be increased when all of the stricken districts are heard from.

The destruction to property will amount to hundreds of thousands of dollars. Entire neighborhoods have been literally swept off the face of the earth.

The cyclone's path was through a vast pine forest, broken here and there by a farm. Large trees were uprooted and carried for the distance of a mile.

Near the town of Pachuta lived the family of William Parton, consisting of himself, wife and three children. Their bodies except that of their youngest child were picked up over a mile away, mangled and entirely nude. Their brains had been dashed out. The child had a miraculous escape. It was found a half mile from its home uninjured, but pitifully crying for its mother.

William Fisher lived near the station with his mother, wife and five children. They were blown away and searching parties have been out ever since, but none of their bodies have been found.

A child of Sim McGowan was found dead in a treetop a mile from its home. Four negroes on the Aldridge plantation were killed outright and a family of negroes numbering nine perished. One of the children was found two miles from where it was playing when picked up by the deadly wind.

The killed in Clarke county are Mrs. Aldridge, Mrs. Sumart, a child of W. Ponder and six negroes. The country is strewn for miles with debris, and in the pathway of the cyclone are found all kinds of household goods, dead cattle and poultry. The picture is an indescribably piteous one; houses swept away and dashed to pieces as if they were cockles, children crying for their parents and fathers and mothers searching among the huge piles of debris for missing ones. Such is the scene.

The telegraph wires were snapped in two as though they were pipestems, and the poles lifted up and carried through the country at a frightful velocity.

The whole country is in mourning. The ministers and physicians are at work. The wind is still high, and as each cloud has appeared the people would look frightened, huddle together and pray.

MRS. HANCOCK DEAD.

The Famous General's Wife John Her Husband in the Great Beyond.

NEW YORK, April 21.—After a lingering illness of many months Mrs. Almira Hancock, widow of Major General Winfield S. Hancock, died at 4:30 p. m. yesterday at the residence of the general's niece, Mrs. Eugene Grifflin, at Gramercy park. Mrs. Hancock's strength had been slowly wasting away under the subtle influence of a succession of sorrows that had subdued her naturally cheerful disposition and withdrawn her from society during the later years of her life.

Her only daughter, Ada Elizabeth, died in this city in March, 1875, aged 18. Her mother, Mrs. Adeline Russell, died on Governor's island in April, 1883. Her only son, Russell, died in Mississippi in December, 1884. Those bereavements were followed by the death of her husband on Governor's island on Feb. 9, 1886. Thus one after another, the immediate members of her family passed away like dissolving views from her ideal home.

In the summer of 1891 Mrs. Hancock went to Europe, where change of air and scenes soon wrought a marked improvement. Overexertion in Europe, and particularly her preparations for return, had developed a serious form of nervous prostration, which was aggravated by the winter voyage home. After her arrival in this city last November she had a relapse from which she never rallied.

The funeral will take place at the Church of the Transfiguration, Twenty-eighth street and Fifth avenue, at noon Saturday.

QUARANTINE REGULATIONS.

An Extensive Code Promulgated by Secretary Carlisle.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Secretary Carlisle has promulgated an extensive code of quarantine regulations under the quarantine law passed by the last congress. The regulations were framed by the marine hospital service and are designated to cover all questions which can arise, should vessels arrive having disease aboard or coming from infected ports.

The quarantinable diseases are stated to be cholera, yellow fever, smallpox, plague and typhus fever. All vessels shall be quarantined coming from infected ports, or which have had disease on board during the voyage, or within 80 days preceding arrival.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—The condition of General L. F. Beale does not show any material improvement, and he is still regarded as a very sick man.

TRAIN DERAILED.

Two Coaches Hurlled From a Trestle Thirty Feet High.

ASHLAND, Ky., April 21.—The Huntington and Big Sandy shuttle train running backwards from Huntington to Kenova on the Ohio River railroad extension was derailed on the Twelve Pole trestle above Ceredo by the swinging rope from a heavy derrick boom alongside. Both coaches of about 25 feet in length, tumbled off the structure a distance of 30 feet to the dry clay bed of the creek and were totally demolished, only about half of the last coach retaining its shape. The engine's great weight saved it though running at 20 miles an hour.

Being the early morning trip the train was lightly loaded, only about 20 passengers being on board, but each of these received some injury. A section crew close at hand lent valuable assistance in the rescue and kept back the crowd that was soon made up of half the town. The section men had, a half hour before, securely fastened the rope that caused the accident and outside inside interference is suspected.

Conductor James McCreery of Huntington, the only man killed, was to have been married in June to Miss Carrie Shelton of Ironton, O., and carried $1,000 life insurance in her favor.

Following are the injured:

Harvey Matthews of Dunlow, W. Va., crushed about breast and bad bruises on head; considered fatal.

Solomon Perry of Dunlow, internal injuries and skull fractured, also thought fatal.

J. Humphreys of Huntington, head cuts and body bruised. Serious results feared because of extreme age.

Floyd Over of Cove Gap, W. Va., cuts on head, internal injuries; serious.

H. R. Bowen of Wayne C. H., injury to spine, bad cuts on head; serious.

Clovis Bowen of Wayne, W. Va., arm fractured and severe cuts and bruises on head.

Mrs. Georgia Hensley of Ceredo, W. Va., bad shock and internal injuries about stomach; dangerous.

J. C. Chapman of Chapmansville, W. Va., internal stomach injury; very old and considered dangerous.

J. M. Pratt of Dunlow, general shaking up and concussion of the brain feared.

J. Barks of Huntington, light cuts on head; indifferent.

A. Gale Brith of Vincent, O., hands badly crushed and back sprained.

C. E. Bryan of Parkersburg, roadmaster of the Ohio River railroad, shoulder dislocated and head badly cut.

Arthur Cingle, a schoolboy of Huntington, badly cut about the face.

LYMAN L. LAMB'S DISAPPEARANCE.

Further Developments Explain Why He Did Not Return.

CHICAGO, April 21.—Jacob Newman is not the possessor of a satchel containing $28,000, left in his keeping by Lyman L. Lamb of Akron, O., as previously announced. Lamb has disappeared all right enough, but instead of his leaving $28,000 in Newman's hands, he relieved Newman of that amount.

Newman says he negotiated a real estate deal for Lamb and when the matter of payment came Lamb produced a $35,000 draft apparently drawn by the City National bank of Akron on the Importers and Traders of New York city. The City National bank's New York correspondent, Newman declares, telegraphed here that the draft had been presented and payment refused. Cashier Stone wired at once that the draft was a forgery. On Newman's indorsement Lamb secured $28,000 from a Chicago bank, leaving $7,000 on deposit. Lamb disappeared immediately after receiving the $28,000.

No Settlement Reached.

NEW YORK, April 21.—The conference between the executive committee of the Clothing Manufacturers' association and representatives of the American Federation of Labor, and the United Garment workers, concerning the clothing cutters' lockout, was resumed this afternoon. Commissioner Feeny, of the board of mediation and arbitration, presided. The lockout cutters demanded that they be taken back in a body and that the men employed in the stores of the association, engaged since the lockout was declared, be discharged. This the manufacturers refused to do.

Gas Explosion.

DETROIT, April 21.—A gas explosion occurred at the Dime Savings bank. Only a few of the employees were in the office when the explosion occurred. One of them entered the vault and lighted the gas and the explosion followed. John Stein, collection clerk, was thrown with great force against the cage of his office. He was frightfully burned about the head, face and hands, the flesh on his face being literally cooked. Several other employees were also badly scorched and burned.

Twenty Shots Fired.

VISALIA, Cal., April 21.—Evans and Sontag, the train robbers who have eluded officers for several months, were at Evans' home, this city last night, and Sheriff Kay, with a posse of eight men, went to the house. Twenty shots were fired, but the desperadoes escaped, going in a westerly direction.

Saved by a Beer Chip.

WASHINGTON, Ind., April 21.—Frank Killion of near Plainville, while in a Main street saloon missed his pocketbook and accused Joseph Kendall of this city with the theft. Hot words followed, and Killion pulled his revolver and fired at Kendall. The ball struck a beer chip and saved his life.

Drowned in a Jar of Water.

OAKLAND CITY, Ind., April 21.—A small child of John Clifford fell head foremost into a jar of water and was drowned. There were but one and a half gallons of water in the jar.

THE WAR HAS BEGUN

Tennessee Miners' Troubles Again Break Out.

A BATTLE AT TRACY CITY.

Free Miners Attack the Convict Guards and Over Five Hundred Shots Are Fired. One Man Instantly Killed and Quite a Number Wounded, Several of Them Fatally—Troops Now Preserving Order.

NASHVILLE, April 21.—Particulars of the battle between the free miners and convict guards at Tracy City have been received. The night was very dark and guards were expecting the attack. About 11 o'clock a knock at the stockade door was answered by Deputy Warden Schriver.

Three heavily armed miners were there. They demanded to know on what terms the convicts would be surrendered. "On no terms," answered the warden. One of the miners, named Joe Grantham, said the stockade would be blown up with dynamite and every soul killed if a surrender was not made. For answer Deputy Warden Schriver seized the fellow and, with the assistance of a guard, dragged him inside and slammed the gate, while the two other miners retreated into the darkness.

In a moment a volley was fired upon the stockade from every side. Then the miners closed in, actually poking their Winchester through the port-holes. The guards were at great disadvantage owing to the light inside and the darkness without, but took to the upper perches and answered volley for volley. The warden released Grantham on promise that he would go outside and stop the firing. He turned traitor though.

Fully 500 shots were exchanged. Schriver was wounded twice in the face. He fired simultaneously at his antagonist, whom he could see dimly, and who fell dead in his tracks. He was Bob Irvine. Guard S. A. Walden received a load of No. 7 shot in the chest, stomach and bowels.

The fire from the stockade was becoming too hot and the miners retreated, but for an hour kept up their firing on the stockade from the surrounding hills, without damage.

Irvine, the dead miner, was 21, and married and had one child. Guard Walden's wounds are fatal. He is married. From the best information obtainable five of the miners are wounded, one of them named Parsons, fatally.

As soon as the report of the battle reached here Adjutant General Fite ordered the state militia that were resting on their arms at the state capital to at once proceed to the scene of disturbance. A special train left the Union depot carrying a little over 100 of the Tennessee national guards and two pieces of artillery. General Fite and aides accompanied the soldiers.

The soldiers reached Tracy City at 1:45. No attempt was made to molest the train. They are provisioned for a long siege if necessary. They went into camp at the stockade at 3:30.

Governor Turney returned here and is directing every movement.

It is the general impression that it will not be necessary to keep the soldiers there for more than two or three days.

The last telegram from Tracy City says that everything is quiet, but that Deputy Warden Schriver is dying and that one of the wounded miners is also reported to be sinking.

Twenty-five members of the Stone River guards of Murfreesboro have also reached Tracy City and gone into camp.

The members of the board of prison inspectors, Comptroller Harris, Treasurer Craig and Secretary of State Morgan are now in Tracy City.

EXCITEMENT IN A THEATER.

William Muldoon, the Wrestler, Meets With a Serious Accident.

BALTIMORE, April 21.—William Muldoon, who is at the Monumental theater here with his athletic combination, met with what may prove to be a very serious accident Wednesday night, while wrestling with Fritz Thompson of Germany, one of the combination. The latter accidentally struck Muldoon just below the right eye with his elbow. The blow cut a gash about two inches in length. The blood flowed freely, and for a time there was considerable excitement in the theater. Muldoon walked to the footlights and told the people that there was no occasion for alarm, that the injury was purely the result of an accident and awkwardness. Later a physician was summoned.

It is now ascertained that erysipelas has supervened and that there is danger of its so affecting the eye that the great wrestler might lose the sight of it. His physician has warned him that he must be exceedingly careful or he might indeed lose both eyes.

AS FROM THE DEAD.

A Brother Joins His Sister After a Separation of Many Years.

MUNCIE, Ind., April 21.—Miss May Hooper, a typewriter employed by the Western Improvement company at West Muncie, was looking over the business cards of West Muncie enterprises and recognized that her brother, George H. Hooper, whom she had not seen since she was a small girl, was at work in the hotel where the office in which she works is located.

He went to Chicago, and while there, with three others, went out in a boat for a sail on Lake Michigan and from that time, seven years ago, he has been reported as dead. Mr. Hooper had not surmised that this was his sister, though he had been working for several weeks as a painter and decorator in the building.

THE ADVERTISEMENT AS A SALESMAN.
It is an ideal salesman to the retail dealer—a salesman that never tires or sleeps, combining in itself the gravity of a clergyman, the eloquence of an orator, the attractions of an actor, the astuteness of a lawyer, and the experience of an expert drummer, and going about its business at all times and in all seasons. It accosts and addresses the merchant in his store, the capitalist in his office, the student and professional man in his seclusion. It is in all places at once, and can address a million people every day of the year; and it is capable of saying the right thing at the right time, in the right place and in the right way.—Exchange

If the Greenup Gazette will look into the matter a little, it will find that the State is not paying $500 a day for caring for her convicts by a long shot. The cost is less than $100, and the prospect for making the "pen" self-supporting is excellent.

Some of the employees of the Weather Bureau under President Harrison's administration seem to have labored under the impression that they owned the Government, judging from the way they carried off public property and disposed of it and pocketed the proceeds.

SENATOR HUFF, of the Fleming-Bath district, is now making his home at Vanceburg, and the Flemingsburg Times-Democrat suggests that he should resign and "let the district elect one of her own citizens to represent her." Doesn't his moving out of the district create a vacancy?

CONGRESSMAN STONE is easily first in the noble work of leaving the lump of Federal officials in his district with Democratic postmasters. His "pull" appears to be one of the few that is tied to something.—Louisville Times.

He may be first in his district, but not so in the State. Haven't you noticed how Republican postmasters in the Ninth have been replaced with good Democrats? Hon. Thomas H. Paynter hasn't allowed any of the Kentucky members to get ahead of him in the work of having "the rascals" fired from office.

GOVERNOR BROWN stated in one of his open letters on the subject that the penitentiary lessees owed the State nearly $100,000. The defendants, however, have already sneaked out of their liability for over $30,000 of the amount, under the statute of limitations, and Attorney General Hendrick doesn't expect to recover more than half the balance, while Senator Lindsay, attorney for the lessees, says the judgment will not be over $5,000. At this rate, the State will soon be brought out in debt to the lessees.

INFORMATION from the Treasury Department indicates that Kentucky applicants for Internal Revenue Collectors will have to wait some time. It is said the incumbents will be allowed to serve out the four-year terms, all of which will expire June 13, except in the Lexington district, where Collector McDowell's commission extends to November 20. The applicant for Storekeeper in this district who expected the Collector to be named the day President Cleveland was inaugurated will have to lay in a fresh supply of patience.

Novel Legal Point.
B. F. Bradford owns the land opposite Rome, O., and he wanted to charge the C. and O. so heavily for a passway to the river that the company finally gave orders for the trains not to stop at the station any more.

But Uncle Sam's mail had to be handled. Bud White is the mail carrier and Bradford served notice on him to quit traveling over the land. White paid no attention. Then Bradford sued out an injunction in the Lewis Circuit Court and served notice on the agent. The order of the Court was violated, and the Court issued a warrant for the arrest of the agent, which was served one day this week, the Court fixing the bail at $200, but the agent refused to give bail, and expressed a wish to be placed in jail in order to test the legality of the proceedings. A nice legal question is involved, and able counsel has been employed by both sides.

Another Train.
The Portsmouth Tribune is authority for the statement that the C. and O. will soon put on an accommodation train between Maysville and that city. The train will leave Maysville at 6 a. m., arriving at South Portsmouth at 8 a. m. Returning it will leave South Portsmouth at 4 p. m. and reach this city at 6 p. m.

RIVER NEWS.
A string of rafts line the Big Sandy a distance of five miles from its mouth. Bav Brothers are rushing work on their new boat, and will soon have it in running condition.
The Louisville and Cincinnati Packet Company is building an elegant steamer to take the place of the Fleetwood. It is under contract by the Howards, of Jeffersonville.
A Cincinnati special says: "The old Mary Houston, at one time the queen of the river, is being wrecked over on the Newport wharf. She was built in 1878 for $80,000."

Captain William Bay, Superintendent of the Bay Line, has issued the following circular:

A combination of the other river and rail lines having previously demanded the owners of the only independent Ohio and Kanawha river steamer, Henry M. Stanley, to join them in a general advance of exorbitant and oppressive rates and the Stanley having refused to join in such advance, is now confronted with an opposition in the so-called independent boatmen, which it should be apparent to the public is not independent of the combination. The shippers and merchants should readily see and understand that this is a move to monopolize the trade and thereby deprive the shippers and merchants of the fair and equitable rates that have been and are now charged for freight and passage by the steamer Stanley. Your continued patronage and support is earnestly solicited as it has been given her in the past.

Success of the so-called independent packet means to all shippers and merchants higher and oppressive rates. To maintain and support the real independent boat Stanley is to protect your personal interests.

An Ex-Maysvillian Writes of His Old and New Home.

The venerable Joseph F. Brodriek in a letter to a friend writes: "In THE BULLETIN we get the news weekly, and it is sad to read of the many old friends and acquaintances fast passing away, and this from the time we left Maysville. A large number on the hillside, one on each side of the old home, and one immediately in front. A large number gone in four years that we will never see any more. When I left Maysville I confidently expected to return, but I have about abandoned the idea. On account of the rheumatism, I could not get on or off a railroad."

In spite of his rheumatism, Mr. Brodriek's handwriting is steady and would do credit to a man of thirty, while his composition is as smooth and entertaining as if he was in the prime of life. He adds: "When speaking of returning to Maysville, I intended to say I have been homesick since leaving. Nothing discreditable about that, because I love Maysville and the people. That is not singular, as I lived in and near by upwards of seventy years." In speaking of the climate he says: "You may know it was not sultry here this winter when I tell you ice was three feet thick in a canal twenty miles north of us. I don't think I ever saw the ice, natural, one foot in Kentucky." Rev. Mr. Hittner, his son-in-law, is pastor of the church at Kahoka, Clarke County, Mo., a town of 2,000 people and growing. The church is in quite a prosperous condition—thirty-three additions in nine months.

Mr. Brodriek adds in a postscript, showing how much his thoughts are toward his native place: "I omitted to say I am often in Maysville."

The Legislature.
The bill dividing the State into one hundred Representative districts has passed both houses and goes to the Governor.

The bill relating to all State charitable institutions failed to pass the Senate for want of a quorum, and it is now dead, as it has been twice reconsidered. The old law will prevail.

The resolution authorizing the Governor to order the summer encampment of the State Guard to be held at Chicago was defeated. It is claimed by the military boys that the Governor has power anyhow.

The Walton House bill authorizing the incorporation of local fire insurance companies was passed in the Senate.

Of Interest to the Fire Department.
At the suggestion of Chief of Police Fitzgerald, the City Council at its last meeting authorized the Committee on Fire Department to confer with Eastman & Co., of Concord, N. H., with a view of securing the "Perfection" hose holder. It is claimed a child with one of these holders can manage any stream of water as easily as half a dozen men can without it.

Mr. Fitzgerald has received one of the holders, and an exhibition test will be made this afternoon at 4 o'clock at corner of Third and Limestone. All interested should be on hand.

Called Meeting.
Maysville Chapter No. 9, R. A. M., this (Friday) evening at 7 o'clock sharp. The Most Excellent and Royal Arch degrees will be conferred. A full attendance is desired.

Mr. Logan Marshall, of Sardis, is visiting his brother, Mr. Charles Marshall, at Belknap, Ill.

Miss Jennie Frazee returned Thursday morning from Colorado Springs, much improved in health.

Mr. J. R. Wilson, of Augusta, was in Maysville yesterday and made the BULLETIN a pleasant call.

Mr. John Harding and bride left Thursday morning for their home in Indiana, after spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Potts.

Says the Dover News: "Mr. W. T. Cole, son of Judge Cole, of Maysville, and a Democratic candidate for County Attorney, was in Dover Saturday, in the interest of his canvass."

Says the Commercial Gazette: "Hon. M. C. Alford, Lieutenant Governor of Kentucky, is at the Gibson House. He is the guest of Mr. Walter Blatterman. Governor Alford is a well known lawyer of Lexington, and was for a time in the State Senate. His visit here is purely a social one, and has no reference to politics. He and Mr. Blatterman are old-time friends, and were in college together."

MOSE DAULTON & BRO. sold and shipped to J. A. DeGroft, of Chicago, yesterday one dark gray coach gelding five years old, 16 hands 2 inches high, by Ed Davis, son of Almont, dam by Eureka Prince. Also to same party one bay phaeton pony six years old, 13½ hands high, and very handsome.

PROFESSOR B. B. Jones, of Portsmouth, was returning from Lexington this week on a bicycle, when, in descending the Maysville hill, his wheel ran away with him and he had to steer it against a stone wall to keep from smashing into some team. He was badly shaken up but not hurt. He claims to have made the run from Lexington to this city in four hours.

WALTER S. HARKINS, of Prestonsburg, is still in Washington City after the District Attorneyship. He says he has arranged to let Cleveland and Olney understand very clearly that Eastern Kentucky has not had a State appointment in fifty years, and that it is about time for his constituency to be recognized. "The man I have got to fight is Smith, of the First district," he says.

Says the Aberdeen Journal: "On Wednesday evening, April 12th, in the presence of the relatives and a few intimate friends, Miss May Waldron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Waldren, was united in marriage to Mr. Arthur L. Hudson, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Hudson. The wedding took place at the residence of the bride's parents on Front street, the ceremony being performed by Rev. P. McCullough. The young couple left that night on the late boat on a short visit to Pomeroy relatives." Mr. Hudson is a salesman in the Frank Owens Hardware Company's establishment.

"SOCIETY'S HALF WORLD" was rendered at Lexington Wednesday night by Jefferys Lewis and company, and the Daily Press says: "The play, while dealing with the gay French capital, Paris, is treated in such a way that not a single line is offensive. Miss Lewis is a stranger in Lexington, but her work showed her to be an artiste of no small amount of skill. Her reputation had preceded her and her performance confirmed the good things which have been said of her in advance. Not only is Miss Lewis a remarkably strong actress, but the company in support of her has rarely been surpassed this season. Estha Williams furnished the comedy and did it in a remarkably taking way. Harry Mainhall and Frank Roberts were both very strong. In fact the entire company could conscientiously be singled out for words of praise. The dresses worn by the ladies were models of the dressmaker's art." At the opera house to-morrow night.

FOR THE FARMER.

A Clark County farmer realized $300 from four acres of onions last season.

W. G. Walker, of Georgetown, Ky., has purchased nearly 500,000 pounds of tobacco this year.

The acreage of tobacco in Clark County will be nearly double that of last season, says the Winchester Democrat.

It is said Hon. Waller Sharpe, the Sharpsburg tobacco dealer, has this year a million pounds purchase, comprising the finest and silkiest leaf.

When a farmer feeds a pig beyond nine months he is needlessly throwing away his profits. Many are slow to learn this, notwithstanding it has so often been demonstrated.—Mirror and Farmer.

Says the Danville Advocate: "Prewitt & Wood have engaged in Boyle and adjoining counties about 25,000 lambs. Prices 6½ cents for May, 6 and 5½ cents for June, 5½ for July and 4½ in August."

EDWIN BOOTH'S CONDITION.
His Physician Says There Is No Occasion For Immediate Alarm.
NEW YORK, April 21.—Edwin Booth's condition is reported to be such as to call for no immediate alarm. Dr. Sinclair Smith gave out a statement concerning his patient, which he said was made at the request of Mr. Booth's family and some of his friends. It was as follows:
"Mr. Booth's attack by partial aphasia and some paralysis of his right arm and right side of the face in all probability is due to slight hemorrhage in the brain. At no time has he been in any immediate danger. He passed the night sleeping most of the time and has had a restful day. It is impossible at the present time to predict what the outcome may be."
As Dr. Smith left the clubhouse last night he said Mr. Booth was not in any critical condition, and he was going to leave him in charge of the nurse for the night.
It was also announced at the Players' club that the ladies' reception day, which had been fixed to take place at the club on April 24 had been indefinitely postponed on account of the tragedian's illness.

RECIPROCITY TREATIES.
How They Worked in Regard to Brazil and Cuba.
WASHINGTON, April 21.—A study of the statistics contained in the second annual report of the bureau of American republics show the following results in regard to the workings of the reciprocity treaties with Brazil and Cuba:
The United States exported to Brazil in the years 1890, 1891 and 1892, respectively, merchandise to the value of $11,972,214; $14,120,246, and $14,291,873. In the same years the imports of merchandise into the United States from Brazil were $59,318,750; $83,230,595, and $113,633,604, respectively, an increase of over 100 per cent.
The exports to Cuba increased in round numbers from $13,000,000 in 1890 to $18,000,000 in 1892, and those to Porto Rico from $2,300,000 to $2,850,000. Cuba's exports to the United States in three years in round numbers was, respectively, $54,000,000, $62,000,000 and $78,000,000, while those of Porto Rico to the United States decreased from $4,000,000 in 1890 to $3,250,000 in 1892.

TWO MORE SHAKES.
The Island of Zante Again Visited by Destructive Earthquakes.
ATHENS, April 21.—There were two shocks of earthquake, instead of one, about midnight in the island of Zante, already nearly ruined by similar visitations of the past few days. The residents of the stricken islands are emigrating in great numbers, and British and Greek sailors are actively engaged in razing tottering buildings and erecting sheds as places of refuge for the homeless inhabitants.
Scientists predict that the shocks of earthquake will continue until a volcanic eruption, probably of a submarine character, will occur, and afford relief to the forces which cause the seismic disturbances.

Unconscious From Inhaling Coal Gas.
CHICAGO, April 21.—Escaping coal gas from the heating stove made seven members of the family of F. J. Schultz unconscious. They occupied a 2-story frame house at Maynard street and Milwaukee avenue in the old town of Jefferson. The storm is supposed to have destroyed the chimney draft and forced the fumes from the stove into the sleeping apartments. The members of the family who suffered from the gas are: Fred J. Schultz, father; Matilda Schultz, mother; Caroline Schultz, grandmother, and Emil, Freddie, Willie and Carrie Schultz, children.

John Addington Symonds Dead.
ROME, April 21.—John Addington Symonds died here. He was born at Bristol, Oct. 3, 1840. He was educated at Harrow school and Balliol college, Oxford. He gained a prominent place in the world of letters, among the most widely known of his works being, "Introduction to Study of Dante," "Studies of the Greek Poets" and contributions to the "Englishmen of Letters Series" on Shelley and Sir Phillip Sydney. He also wrote an article on "Italian History" for the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Explosion of Metal.
BRADDOCK, Pa., April 21.—An explosion of metal at furnace E of the Carnegie plant late last night, seriously burned Jack Green, Michael Flaherty and Thomas Day. Flaherty was burned the worst and cannot recover. As the metal started to run into the sand it exploded. Flaherty was almost covered by the hot metal. He is 24 years of age, single. The entire contents of the furnace, about 80 or 90 tons, poured out of the taphole and ran into the sand.

Earthquake Felt in Pennsylvania.
PHILADELPHIA, April 21.—A special to The Press from Lancaster, Pa., says: What is believed to have been an earthquake shock was felt by many people in various sections of this city and vicinity a few minutes before 9 o'clock yesterday evening. A heavy rumbling sound, which lasted several seconds, shook buildings and their contents, and in several instances people ran from the houses.

Barn Burned.
GREENFIELD, Ind., April 21.—The large frame barn belonging to William Bradley, about two miles north of this city, was consumed by fire, with all its contents, consisting of hay, corn, farming implements and three valuable horses. Loss on barn and contents, $3,000, with $1,500 insurance.

Coal Mine Caves In.
SOMERSET, Pa., April 21.—Late yesterday afternoon the coal mine at Milford station caved in, instantly killing George Yinkey and severely injuring his helper, George Miller. A large stone struck Yinkey on the breast. He was 32 years old and unmarried.

Indian Trouble About Over.
WASHINGTON, April 21.—General Schofield has received a telegram from Captain Guthrie at Antlers, I. T., stating that the troubles with the Indians is about ended. The Locke men and the Jones party are negotiating for peace.

Schooner Wrecked.
PHILADELPHIA, April 21.—A cable just received here states that the schooner George W. Lochner, from St. Jago for Philadelphia, with sugar, has been totally wrecked on Phillips reef near Turk's island. The crew were saved and are now on their way to New York in the steamship George W. Clyde. Her cargo was valued at $50,000.

Three Men Drowned.
LOCK HAVEN, Pa., April 21.—A steam seow, used in transporting fireclay from the Queen's Run company's mines to the works in this city, capsized near the middle of the river in a heavy gale of wind. Seven men were on the boat, three of whom—Bud Reed, 22, of this city, Fred Sinn of Hazleton and an unknown man were drowned.

Murderers Fully Identified.
INDIANAPOLIS, April 21.—There was a dramatic scene in the county jail when the widow of murdered Druggist Eister called to look at the two negroes under arrest for the crime. Parker and McAfee were brought into her presence and after carefully looking them over she said: "They are the men." After she looked again, more carefully than on the first occasion, and this time her expression was: "They are the men who killed my husband."

Despondent and Suicided.
MARION, Ind., April 21.—Joseph Wolf, a farmer living near here, committed suicide by shooting himself three times. Despondency over financial losses was the cause.

KNOWLEDGE
Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.
Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.
Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.
